“Biggest benefit from OneStream is having all 13 entities in the exact same format with an easy way of consolidating the financials. I love the Excel add-in. It gives us the ability to run great analysis quickly. It's been a pleasure working with CFO Solutions. The biggest benefit is the expert knowledge they bring to the table. I try to come up with difficult questions, and they always know the answer! They know OneStream inside and out, how to make the system work for Centerline!”

Centerline OneStream Administrator, Ryan Daley

Challenges

 Centerline Communications was acquired by Audax in August 2021, and planned for additional growth through further acquisitions. They needed to find a partner that could implement systems and efficiencies that would allow Centerline to focus on growth. CFO Solutions already had experience with implementations for Audax entities and thus could provide consistency in approach and allow Centerline to focus on future acquisitions.

Initially, Centerline needed help with Data Mapping. They had started down this road, but the work was incomplete and not documented efficiently. Additionally, they needed help in streamlining processes to accommodate additional acquired entities, and improve efficiency by reducing manual, Excel-based processes. Lastly, they needed to accommodate a new, global chart of accounts.

Solution

 CFO Solutions was hired to provide immediate assistance in implementing OneStream to help increase efficiencies, streamline processes and in general put a system in place that allowed Centerline to focus on the business of growing the company and acquisitions. By working through the OneStream implementation, Centerline was able to achieve a complete and logical mapping of legacy CoAs to the new, Global CoAs.

One of the biggest benefits for Centerline was the ease of transition from implementation to productive use. CFO Solutions was able to provide hands-on training and enablement that quickly got Centerline running their month-end processes in OneStream.

Results

 Working with Centerline to implement OneStream, CFO Solutions was able to create a “single source of truth” that increased the efficiency of month-end processes. And by enhancing reporting tools CFO Solutions was able to help Centerline answer questions and research issues with added efficiency and accuracy.
